RESTORED TO HEARING With the UTMOST SUCCESS. READ AGAIN FRESH TESTIMONY.

From the Report of the U. S. Military Commission sent to Europe in 1855-6.

"The Zouaves are all French; they are select of from among the old campaigners, for their fine physique and risd courage, and have certainly proved that they are, what their appearance would indicate, the most reckless, self-relisat, and complete infanty that Europe can produce.

"With his graceful dress, seldierly bearing, and vigilant attitude, the Zouave at an outpoot is the beau ideal of a soldier.

"They neglect no opportunity or adding to their personal comforts; if there is a stream in the vicinity, the party marching on picket is sure to be amply supplied with fishing rods, &c.; if anything is to be had, the Zouaves are quite certain to obtain it. "Their novements are the most light and graceful I have ever seen; the stride is long, but the fopt seems exacely to touch the ground, and the march is apparently made without effort or facilities.

"GaoRGJE B. McCLELLAN, "Captain 1st Infantry." Bank of the Republic, New York, Aug 15, 1880.
Dr. Ven Moschrisker treated me for Beafness very successfully and satisfactorily. My hearing was restored, and continues as good as ever, and I add my testimoup in his favor.

To Dr. Von Moschiisken, Oculist and Aurist, No. 107 Chaton-place

Dear Sir:

I am a living witness of your skill in the operation of the Ear, having, on a recent visit to New-Orleans, become totally deaf in one ear, and, by the advice of my friends, who brought me to your office, where your skilful operation, without any pain, emitrely cared me. I went to your office deaf, and my nearing is now as well as ever, for which I shall ever be thankful to you.
Should you think proper you can use my name.

With great respect,
Your obedient servant,

JUST PUBLISHED:

A FIRST GREEK BOOK AND INTRODUCTORY READ—
ER. By Prof. A Harkness, Ph. E., of Brown University, author of "Arnold's First Latin Book," "Second Latin Book," etc.
This work embraces, in one small volume, the leading features of the author's two Latin books. It is designed to conduct the pupil in a series of lessons and exercises through the Forms and Syntax of the language, and to give him sufficient practice in translating, first classified scatteness and then easy, connected discourses, in the form of Fabies, Anecdotes, and Legends, to prepare him to enter with ease and success upon the consecutive study of such a work as the Anabasis of Xenophon.

A GREEK GRAMMAR for Schools and Colleges. By James Hadley, Professor in Yale College. 12mo, 366 pages. $1.25.
Prof. Hadley's long-expected Grammar is presented to the public interest of the confident cellef that it will, in every respect, meet the wants of Academies and Colleges. It will be found clear in its imaguage, accurate in its definitions, judicious in its armagement, and sufficiently comprehensive for all purposes, while it is free from that cambrous erray of details so repulsive to the student.

VIRGIL'S ÆNEID; with Explanational Notas. By Henry S. Frieze, Professor of Latiu in the State University of Michigan. Izino, 35 illustrations, 356 pages. $1.25.

Neither expense nor pains have been spared to clothe the great Letin Epic in a fitting dress. The type is unusually large and distinct. In a word, this work is commended to teachers as the most elegant, securate, interesting, and practically useful edition of the Æneid that has yet been published.

PLATO'S APOLOGY AND CRITC; with Notas. By W. S Tyler, Graves Professor of Greek in Amherst College. 12mo., 180 pages. 75 cents.

A Good Warning-Machine — The Conteal Washing Machine which is just now being brought into notice and use by Messra P & R. French of the city is a labor-saver in which we have confidence. It washes affectually, with a real saving of song, and with less wear and tear of clothing than is caused by handrubbing on the washibard, and sparse the hands from the worst part of the process, and saves much time. It is simplicity, compactness, strength, and dorability, recommend it; and it is cheap enough to insure its benefits to those who most need them.—[N. Y. Tribune.

French's Contoal Washing Machine possesses all the elements of simplicity, efficiency, and cheapness required in a family washing machine, and will, doubtless, come into universal use as a standard American household institution. We have tested this adminole affair, and speak advisedly of its merits. It rants with the Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machine, and will prove one of the most efficient friends of wassan—[Phrenological Journal.

French's Conleal Washing-Machine not only does the work in one-third the time required for band-washing, but does it quite as well, wears the clothes a great deal less, and saves a large proprisin of the soap. If this is a paff, Messrs. French, you are welcome to it.—[N. Y. Sun, June 12, 1869.

COLLEGIATE INSTITUTE, CORNWALL, Orange Co., N. Y.A.
H. L. Sydaux: Deur Friend—The Conical Washing Machine has been received and thoroughly tested on our school washing.
It works to a charm, and does not wear the clothes as much as by the hand method of washing. I wish you to send me three more of the Machines for friends.

ALFRED C. ROE, Principal. It will be found invaluable in all country houses, especially where the nattress of the house does her own work.—[Christian Advocate and Journal.

It is such a Washing-Machine as we never expected to see deing its work without injuring dothes, with see appropriate by with economies of various hind to servant dits and professional washerwomen, while it will leave a new era in the country farm-boure on washing day. We heartly commend it to our fair country women — Christian Intelligencer.

mercial Bulletin,

We had tried Rotary Washing Machines, Rubbing Machines, Spring Pounding Machines Vacuum Machines Back Action Retary Machines, Cataract Machines, Ball Machines, Machines Horizontal, Machines Angular, Machines Perpendieular, and Machines Circular, all to no satisfactory purpose; and had resigned the idea of witnessing, in our day, any practical improvement in the method of disposing of the great question of "What shall we do with our dirty lines!" We confess to haring included in the delusions of old forginm, and have been accessed from our Rip Van Winkleitic state, most unexpectedly, by Messrs P. & R. French, who have undertaken the gracious but hereulean task of reducing the tolks and terrors of "washing day" in American houses to an interesting morning exercise.— Lealie's Illustrated Newspaper.

This is a true benefaction for woman, and its inventors and proprietors are the right kind of "liadies" men," substantially and and thoughtfully considerate. God bless them! They have brought the strong arm of machinery, moded with a conning skill, into the battle-field of washing-day, and the ugly array of dirty linen which has oppressed the daughters of freedom so long, has at last found its Magenta and Solferine in "French's Conical Washing Machine,"—Leslie's New Magesine.

This is one of the most valuable labor-saving devices ever introduced into the household.

Mrs. FRANK LESLIE, No. - 224-st.

It greatly reduces the amount of labor, and does the work most I have tested it with another washing machine costing $20, and have found your machine to be infinitely superior to its costlier competitor. The Conical Washing Machine is truly a boundhold blessing, and will relieve washing day of its most disagreeable and burdensone features.

Mrs. H. L. STUART.

It washes perfectly.

GENTIMEN—My wife has used French's Conical Washing-Machine, and pronounces it the only washing machine of any practical value that she has ever used, as I do myself.

J. O. WOODS,
Office of Wheeler & Wilson's Mfg. Co., No. 505 Broadway, N. Y.

Mr. Kisco, Wes'chester Co., N. Y., July 6, 1860.

The following is a copy of the resolutions passed at the meeting of the Club on Friusy last—namely:

Resolved, That, so far as our experience with and observation of Washing Machines has gone, we consider French's of decidedly superior merit. The test given it at this meeting has been a most thorough one, and, from the ease, quickness, and thorough ness of its work, we have no healtation in recommending it to the public.

J. WOOD, Sec. of Farmers' Club of Bedford.

HOUSE OF THE ANGEL GUARDIAN, BOSTON, July 10, 1860.

I am so well pleased with French's Washing Machins that I wish you to said me another. I have a family of 130-all boys; I have nover had gith: I wish to make them do their own washing. With two machines I think they can do it. Or, if you have one of a larger size, wide will work as easily and as well, you may send that.

GEO. F. HASKINS, Superintendent.

Machines can be seen in operation at the Laundry of FRENCH'S HOTEL, LADIRS' USION AID SOCIETY French's Conical Washing Machine was also donated, and has since been thoroughly tested in the laundry of the institution, on 42d st. Its utility, labor saving, and economy prove it to be well worthy of recommendation.—[Christian Advocate and Journal.

Opinion of NORMAN WIERD, Inventor of the Steam Ice Car, Lady Frankin—Chicago, Illinois, 1890.
I have thoroughly tested French's Conical Washing Machine and have examined the various machines invented and in use. I am entirely convinced that the Conical Washer is much the best in all respects for which a patent has yet been issued in this country.

TADIES! READ! READ! ABOUT

FRENCH'S CONICAL WASHING-

EVIDENCE IN FAVOR.

From The Metropolitan Record—Official Organ of Archbishop Highes Aog 4, 1860.
Of French's Conical Washing-Machine we can speak advisedly The ladies of our household have used it with perfect success, and they declare that washing with it can be done in one-fifth of the time, with much less scap, and but a fraction of the labor. In public institutions, hetels, colleges, sto., the full value of this invention will be felt and will be indipensable.

The finest lace and other delicate articles can be washed by this machine without injury, and in an incredibly short time, as also the heavy washing of a household.—[New-York Practical Mechanic.

One of the best friends to woman that we have ever seen is French's Conical Washing-Machine, by the aid of which the trials and wearinesses attendant upon washing-day are, compara-tively speaking, ended.—[Home Journal, June 30, 1860.

I regard it as much superior to any other in use.

MARY L. BOOTH, Author Hist, City of New-York.

French's Conical Washing-Machine, which we have been using for some weeks past, has very conclusively demonstrated its utility as an economizer of time, toil and soap, while it performs its work in the most thorough and satisfactory manner, without injuring or wearing the finest clothes. It is as simple that it can hardly be misunderstood, and so easily worked and kept in order that saybody, with a will, can work it.—[N. Y. Observer.

Conical Washing Machine."—Leslie's New Magusine.

OFFICE OF THE MANUFACTORY OF SPALDING'S PREPARED }
GLUE, No. 48 Cedarst, New York, July 18, 1880.

Messrs. P. & R. FERNCH—Gentilemen: We made a careful trial of the working capacities of your Conical Washing Machine, and I think it only needs to be known to be appreciated as the standard family washer.

HENRY C. SFALDING.

This is really the machine which ought to have a place in every family. And, we may say, having tried both, that it holds the same relation to our family conveniences that the hest Wheeler & Wilson Sewing-Machine does, and it is quite as indispensable.

I am convinced that it is one of weman's most valuable auxiliaries, and should be placed in every home. Nothing could induce me to be without one, now that I have secretained its value, Mrs. S. S. RANDALL, No. 143 Lexington-av.

it is a perfectly satisfactory washer. It saves me the price of washerwoman every week.

Mrs. ABEL STEVENS, No. 186 East 15th-st.

One woman with it will easily dispose of as much work in one day as two have been in the habit of doing in three days. It washes perfectly.

Mrs. J. MARION SIMS.

OFFICE AMERICAN WAYCH Co., No. 222 Broadway, M. Y., Messrs P. & R. Frignen-Gendement. I have witnessed the operation of several lof your Contest washers, and have one in me in my house on Staten Island. One ladies of my family consider it one of the most efficient and easily worked devices for the purpose that could be in-gined, in all which I fully concur, Very respectfully.

Opinion of GEONGE JONES, req., one of the proprietors of The N. Y. Times, July 3, 1860:

We have used French's Conteal Washing Machine several times in our family, and have satisfied ourselves that it is an easily worked, durable, rapid, size, and thorough washer—awing much time and labor. In fact, it fully sustains the meriterious character claimed by its proprietors for it.

I take great pleasure in adding my testing by testing where of the usefulness of French's Courcel Washing Machine. By the old method my wash occupied all day; I now have it does in one quarter of the time. I consider this the most consumical and course of the time. I consider this the most consumical and quarter of the time. I consider this the most consumical and quarter of the time. I consider this the most consumical and quarter of the time.
